

THE DAILY RECORD-UNION.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1882.

Meteorological Observations—Taken at Each Station of the State Moment.

SACRAMENTO, June 27.—888—839 P. M.

Places of Observation	Time	Barometer	Wind	Cloudy	State of the weather
Olympia ...	80° 60' 60"	W.	Fresh	Cloudy
Portland ...	80° 60' 60"	N. W.	Light	Cloudy
Bodega Bay ...	80° 58' 60"	E.	Light	Clear
Sacramento ...	80° 58' 60"	W.	Fair	Clear
Visalia ...	80° 58' 60"	W.	Fair	Clear
Lodi ...	80° 58' 60"	N. W.	Fresh	Clear
San Diego ...	80° 58' 60"	W.	Fresh	Clear

Maximum temperature, 70°; minimum, 55°. River above low-water mark, 55°.

JAMES A. BURKIN,

Sergeant, Signal Corps, U. S. A.

SECOND EDITION.

A second edition of the RECORD-UNION is issued each day at 2 p. m., bringing the Eastern and coast news up to date. By arrangement the Record-Union will be sent to Benicia, and south to Stockton, and east to Colfax, Folsom and Placerville and all intermediate places. The second edition will be found each day upon the third page.

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

In New York Government bonds are quoted at 100% for 1897; 114 for 48s; 101 for 34s; 94 for 3s; 84 for 3d; silver bars, 118¢. Silver in United States bonds, 100d; 5 per cent. Gold in United States bonds, 100d; 4s; 12s; 4s; 11s.

In San Francisco gold dollars are quoted at 12 cents to par; Mexican dollars 92½ cents; gold coins 100d; silver bars, 118¢.

It is evident that not much business is looked for this week. There were no sales of Utah, Alaska, Imperial, Kinston, Crown Point, Oregon, California or Silver Hill.

The stock of freight handlers at Jersey City continues and business is rapidly increased with.

Fires near Waianae, Waia.

Joachim Ruff, the German composer and pianist, is dead.

Stock market reports were felt at several points of the state during morning.

A Mexican horse that was lynched by masked men near Smithville, A. T., Monday.

W. H. Hiltzley, Deputy Recorder and Auditor of State, has been appointed to San Clara County as an overseer of insulators.

In a row at Creek Oak, Or., a man named Fox was stabbed to the heart by another named Lane.

George H. Stevens, a pioneer of Placer County, committed suicide at Auburn yesterday with morphine.

The British ship Lannerum, or, from Sydney for San Francisco, is ashore on Bodega Reef, and will prove a total loss.

A free fight occurred on Sansone street in San Francisco yesterday between attachmen of the Bell Telephone Company and employees of Murphy, Grand & Co.

In an accident on the Oregon and California Railroad yesterday, thirty miles from Portland, nine freight cars were smashed by falling through a bridge.

The attorneys for Carrie Bradley, recently convicted of manslaughter at Portland, Or., have indicted for bribery.

A clear case of yellow fever was discovered at Sacramento.

In a fire at Mendocino, N. H., yesterday morning, a number of men and women were injured by leaping from windows.

The manufacture of gold half and quarter dollars in San Francisco is to be suppressed by order of the Treasury.

Several Greek money-lenders were murdered Sunday at Cairo, Egypt.

The theater at Riga, Russia, was destroyed by fire Monday night.

Edwin Booth appeared at London Monday night in Hamlet.

The bark Wild Hunter, cotton bales, from Boston for Revel, Russia, has been burned at sea.

Wesley Nichols was yesterday found guilty at Nevada City of a man's 74 years old, and will be sentenced Monday.

J. H. Underwood, who killed R. S. Alderson at Auburn last January, was yesterday found guilty of manslaughter.

The British steamer Altonower, which has been in San Francisco six days, was yesterday released by the Board of Health, and will be docked to-day.

The three ordinances voted by Mayor Blake Monday night, were passed last evening at the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Robert Brunswicke dropped dead yesterday at Albany, Or.

Dr. J. P. Parker, a physician of southern Oregon, was accidentally killed a few days ago at Big Butte, Jackson County.

Joe O'Brien, 31, suddenly at Wright's station on the South Pacific Coast Railroad, Monday evening, while at supper.

Mrs. Isabella Dillon was found dead in her house near San Jose yesterday, having died several days.

Julius Breithaupt intended to kill himself with a pistol last evening, at San Juan South, but did not succeed.

J. C. Corry narrowly escaped death from asphyxiation in a Delaware mill at American Flat, Nev., last evening.

Another fine flowing water was reported to Tulear county, water being struck at a depth of 329 feet.

The Mississippi State Convention met yesterday at Lewiston, and nominated Harris M. Plaisted for Governor.

The Captain of the Strathallan was arrested at San Francisco yesterday on a charge of miscestrating the berths on his vessel.

During the last race at Chicago yesterday a heavy rain prevailed.

A. W. Brodt, Principal of the Durand school in Oakland, has been summarily dismissed by the Board of Education.

The body of a young person drowned in San Francisco bay last Sunday have not been recovered.

A TUPPER not became a well-known character for drunkenness. J. F. Spence took pity on him and aided him in distress. The son finally managed to get to Leavenworth, and in the heat of the summer extreme headache, and that he was a good citizen now. Meanwhile Spence lost his eyesight, and from a well-to-do condition he and his family were reduced to poverty. Now comes the Lazarus to be found upon the gutter and presents him a half dollar to help him along.

He was given a hearty welcome by the people.

The present weather continues for a while, says the Kansas City Journal, there will be an ample supply for all the distilleries of the country, provided that only a moderate quantity is wasted for bread, etc.

There was a terrible death on Saturday which George S. Powers had in Nevada county. He was swept through a flume where the water was run with a terrific force, and broke over several high falls.

Sierra county much attention is being given to dredging for veins of smelting success. Experiments that did not prove very successful, especially in the northern section of the county.

We present you with the second paper of theatrical reminiscence in Sacramento. It is the end of a place to a place in the papers and the people who then read the mimic stage.

The Eastern journals say that fewer foreign exports are sold than formerly, on account of the improved quality of American manufacturers in this country.

We are told by the census bulletin that among all the prisoners in the State prisons of this country last year, only twenty-three were natives.

The vineyards in Galveston, Tex., Los Angeles county, some of the vines which are nearly 100 years old, are yet very prolific bearers.

HANLAN, the carman, is said to have made $80,000 during his recent trip to England. Don't rush to pull our nose.

The Amador Sentinel, a good local journal, has altered upon its fourth volume, with a good outlook for the future.

This book of travel by Isidro, Emperor of Brazil, is to be issued in French.

AN ISSUE WHICH WILL WIN.

The Democrats in their platform have committed themselves in favor of the repeal of the Sunday law, but though they took this ground because they thought it would be popular, it is capable of demonstration that the line they propose does not contain the solution of the problem. The repeal of the Sunday law would, as the case stands, produce no effect whatever in securing the free Sunday holiday to the masses, but the absence of all legislation upon the question would encourage the greedy and rapacious few who care for nothing but money to pursue their business without any regard to Sunday, and this would compel others to follow suit, until the seventh-day holiday was swept away altogether. Now whoever asserts that such a consummation would be in the interest of the people, fails to understand the situation, or wishes to deceive the public. The maintenance of the Sunday as a holiday is the prime requirement of the people. The great majority of men through life as employees. They are compelled to give as much time to work as the prevailing custom demands. If it became the custom to keep all businesses in operation every day, the majority of men would have no rest at all. And the reason why legislation is required to protect the popular rest day is that in its absence a very small minority of business men could compel all the rest to keep open every day of the week. The case in fact is one in which, in the absence of a regulating statute, the minority could deprive the majority of one of the essentials of comfortable living.

The Republican party can best the Democrats on the Sunday law by taking the ground the people's side. Sunday for Everybody; with full liberty and full opportunity for all to make what use of it they please. That is a programme which will be found to meet every just and rational requirement of the case. It is the interest of the poor which is mainly at stake. Those who are well-to-do can afford to lose their Sundays occasionally, because they can take holidays when they choose. But the mass of men have no such privilege. Then the Sunday is the only possible holiday in the week. If they were to take a holiday on a Sunday they would lose their wages for that day, and they cannot afford such sacrifice. It is not safe to leave this large class to the chance of a trial. Experience has shown that the tendency of competition is to crowd the week, and that there are many people who also highly regard the Sunday as a day of rest. The Arabs of Egypt may lead to the proclamation of a Mohammedan uprising, of the kind which has been approached on several occasions of late, and which has twice been very distinctly threatened, namely during the Russo-Turkish war, and during the French occupation of Tunis. Arabi Bey is at present supported by the Egyptian people, at least in the large cities, and the Arabs of the desert are for him. Under the peculiar circumstances of his resistance to the European control it might not be difficult for him to bring about such an uprising, and to put himself at its head as the claimant of the Arabian Caliphate. The suggestion of this has evidently alarmed the Sultan, who has hastened to take such steps as he thinks will bind Arabi Bey to him. He believes it will be controlled by the Western Powers, and that it will therefore not support him in his opposition to European intervention. Unless, however, there is to be a famine in Egypt both of food and water, it is evident that something will have to be done to restore confidence there. Without the European population the country must sink into anarchy and hopeless ruin. Yet are drivers out by the crazy Egyptian fanatics, and neither Arabi nor the Khedive appears able to prevent their suicidal course. II Europe does not speedily intercede it now looks as though there would be little left worth the saving, and such intervention is certainly called for in the interests of the Egyptian people.

There is some danger that the ascendancy of Arabi Bey in Egypt may lead to the proclamation of a Mohammedan uprising, of the kind which has been approached on several occasions of late, and which has twice been very distinctly threatened, namely during the Russo-Turkish war, and during the French occupation of Tunis. Arabi Bey is at present supported by the Egyptian people, at least in the large cities, and the Arabs of the desert are for him. Under the peculiar circumstances of his resistance to the European control it might not be difficult for him to bring about such an uprising, and to put himself at its head as the claimant of the Arabian Caliphate. The suggestion of this has evidently alarmed the Sultan, who has hastened to take such steps as he thinks will bind Arabi Bey to him. He believes it will be controlled by the Western Powers, and that it will therefore not support him in his opposition to European intervention. Unless, however, there is to be a famine in Egypt both of food and water, it is evident that something will have to be done to restore confidence there. Without the European population the country must sink into anarchy and hopeless ruin. Yet are drivers out by the crazy Egyptian fanatics, and neither Arabi nor the Khedive appears able to prevent their suicidal course. II Europe does not speedily intercede it now looks as though there would be little left worth the saving, and such intervention is certainly called for in the interests of the Egyptian people.

THE ESCAMBLA CASE.

The Naval Board of Investigation has acquitted Captain Purvis of all blame for the loss of the Escambia. Under the circumstances this is a most surprising, and indeed almost a scandalous, conclusion. It will take a much more important and candid court to convince intelligent men that the loss of the steamer was due to the negligence of the commanding officer.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The House of Representatives—A Good Word for a California Filly—Destruction by Fire—The Maine Democratic Delegates at Chicago—Items of Foreign News—Etc.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE BILL—CASE OF YELLO FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS—RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN TEXAS—BREEZE AT THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—A GOOD WORD FOR A CALIFORNIA FILLY—DESTRUCTION BY FIRE—THE MAINE DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES AT CHICAGO—ITEMS OF FOREIGN NEWS—Etc.

Sullivan, Owen, Ford, Harry Jennings, MacLean McNamara, Eugene Sullivan, Elmer McNamara, Paul Dame, Alice Welch, and Madeline Moore.

CASE OF YELLO FEVER.—A Washout, Win, special says: The Potter tannery down the river, was burned yesterday. It was the property of a shoe firm in Redwing, Minn. Loss, $20,000. Damage, $10,000.

THE RACE AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The day was bright, the track good, the attendance large and the dash steady. The first race was for a mile and a half, and Ascender made the running. The next bunching, and with varying success, followed, with the exception of the front. The former won by half a length, Ascender, four lengths, Time, 1:03.

In the second race, three lengths, and one-and-a-half miles, for all ages, Barlow held it to the seven furlong stretch, and Ascender, and by half a length, Barlow third, Time, 1:04. The winner was beaten by 10 yards.

THE GRAND NATIONAL.—At Ossceola, Iowa, Sunday, Adam Miller and Wm. Lowe were killed by lightning. Seven men were injured, and two were slightly wounded.

THE PLUNKETT AND GUNNER CASE.

OMAHA, June 27.—Plunkett and Gunner, who came out of the three-quarter post, Gun Matthews following, the rest bunching. Washburn came up and held it to the seven furlong stretch, and by half a length, Washburn third, Time, 1:03.

THE FAST MAIL PROJECT.

CHICAGO, June 27.—W. B. Thompson, Superintendent of the United States Railway Mail Service, has telephoned to the managers of the St. Louis and San Francisco mail, and with preparations for the fast mail train between New York and Chicago. The information is to be used in the negotiations with the Union Pacific for a fast mail between Omaha and San Francisco, which has been progressing very quickly of late.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Harry Forbes, a seaman on the steamer Marco Aurelio, bound for Havana, admitted to the hospital Sunday, is now pronounced a clear case of yellow fever.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The telephone company has telephoned to the telephone company in New York, to stop all calls to the telephone exchange.

